

eLearn Calendars

In activities in eLearn, such as a quiz, assignment, feedback and more, you can set availability dates. This allows students to manage their time better.

For an assignment, this may be just an assignment due date, a start date of when an assignment drop box is open for students to submit their work or both. It could also include a cut-off date. This will stop students from being able to submit their assignments after a specified date.

For a quiz, you could set a quiz to be open for one week, so that student can ONLY take the quiz within the dates you have set.

This information will show up in the students' eLearn calendar.
